paign headquarters are located in the Herald building, 1336 El Prado. Why not drop in and talk this proposition over with the campaign manager? At least get the full details about this unusual money-making opportunity. Or if you prefer, telephone 444 and full details will be brought to your home without the slightest obligation to you.

All The Herald desires is to tell you about the whole proposition, then if you really want to earn money, you will enroll in the work without any insistence on our part. Job Waiting Understand, The Herald has a job for you, and is willing to pay mighty good wages for the next few weeks. If you want money, need work, have the time and inclination, you cannot afford to pass up this money-making opportunity.

If you are going to take an active part in the drive, right now is the time for you to make your decision and start!

Keeping Up With Torrance High

As everyone knows, October 13 is the date of the Narbonne game with Torrance. This being the most exciting game of the season, the student body officers expect to see the entire student body and faculty out there cheering for Torrance high. If Torrance does not win, (there is great hope, however) again that familiar phrase, "Just wait till next year. We will surely take 'em," will be heard.

Although the boys are without a coach, a number of fellows have started basketball practice. The various plays and routines that Coach Donahue taught last season are now being taught the candidates by the experienced players. The squad is showing great enthusiasm, and should be in great shape by the time the season opens.

The organization of the T. N. T. staff has been changed considerably this semester. Two co-editors, managing editor and editor-in-chief, are henceforth to divide the duties that formerly went with the position of editor-in-chief. Genevieve Riley is now editor-in-chief, and Russell Quigley is managing editor.

The responsibility of making the paper a success will be shared by the business manager, whose duties have been greatly increased. Raymond Schumacher has been given this position this term.

Helen Smith and Joy Fossum have been chosen as copy editors for the T. N. T. Their work is to edit all copy and rewrite it if necessary. The job requires judgment and accuracy, and the two girls were chosen because of their high standing in English classes.

The questions of senior sweaters and Junior class pins have already been brought up in school. The annual fight has only begun, and everyone hopes optimistically that peaceful decisions will be made by the end of the term, at least.

Mr. Freeland, supervisor of the student store, has left Torrance high to accept a position in the Metropolitan Water Company. Mr. Freeland came to Torrance high last year.

The students met at the bleachers Monday afternoon to brush up on school yells and songs. The first big game of the season is to be played Friday, October 13, at the rival school, Narbonne. Coach Donahue explained the various technical points of football and the varsity squad and substitutes demonstrated the game.

EVENING HIGH SCHOOL

The enrollment in evening high school is increasing rapidly. Those who have not enrolled are missing a fine opportunity for real enjoyment as well as their own development. The world of industry is looking for those who are fit.

Those interested in sewing will be pleased to learn that Miss Herdman, who has taught here for three years, is in charge again this year.

Those interested in Spanish and French will be delighted to know that Mrs. Beyers is to resume her work next Monday, October 2.

The classes in woodshop, art, sewing, mathematics, commercial law and the forum are filling up rapidly.

There is a wonderfully fine, enthusiastic spirit in the school this year that will be an inspiration and help to everyone.

Receive Bids For New Radio Station

Bids for the new United States coast guard radio station building at Point Vincent will be received by the government at Washington, D. C., until October 4, it was announced today.

The main building will be a two-story frame and stucco structure, 65 by 32 feet, with a one-story garage. An appropriation of $11,171 has been made by the government for the buildings.

Woman Takes An Overdose of Poison

Police were called Monday to 619 Anapola avenue to investigate a disturbance and found Dolores Lopez ill from the effects of a poisonous compound which she had swallowed. According to her husband, Juan Lopez, and two others, Carlotta Lopez and A. Girardo, who were at the house, there had been no family disagreement, and the woman explained that she had taken an overdose of the mixture "by mistake."

She was removed to the Jared Sidney Torrance Memorial hospital and had so far recovered from the effects that she was able to go home the following day.

Koiner Named City Manager of Pasadena

C. W. Koiner, manager of the Southern California Edison Company branch at Redondo Beach, has been named city manager of Pasadena at a salary of $900 a month, and will take over his duties on December 1.

Edison Man Called to Important Post As Municipal Head

Koiner's appointment was made by unanimous vote of the board of city directors of Pasadena immediately after that body had accepted the resignation of J. W. Charleville, who has been city manager for two years.

An unusual feature of the appointment is that Koiner had served Pasadena as its first city manager, from 1921 to 1925. He was manager of the Pasadena municipal light department for many years prior to his first term as city manager.

PRAIRIE DOGS MADE VICTIMS OF POISON

MALTA, Mont. (U.P.)—More than 2,000,000 prairie dogs—enough to consume as much forage as would 8000 cattle—were killed during a three-year campaign to rid Phillips county of the rodents. A total of 85,000 pounds of strychnine poisoned oats were scattered over 129,000 acres of solid prairie-dog towns, and a gross area of approximately 1,600,000 acres were rid of the pests.
